Turf Talk with REGIONAL AGRONOMIST

Contrary to popular belief, the rough is being mowed at our normal 2.75" as we always do. I do understand that the rough is thick and hard to get out of at present. Our wet period followed by this unseasonably warm and dry weather has caused the different varieties of grass to go into its reproductive stage. In this stage the grass produces seed heads. These seed heads grow on a tough stem which can grow an inch a day. We can mow one day and by the next day the seed head is already higher than the grass blades. The seed head and stem is what causes the rough to be so hard to get out of.

The seed heads are also in the fairways, tees and greens. We use a chemical spray to retard their growth, thus keeping the seed head held back. Be patient, the grass will get back to normal shortly as we keep mowing.

We are presently working half-way house landscaping and drainage. Cement work will be done by steps on the pool side. The service road from Route 3 to the maintenance building is scheduled to be resurfaced as soon as the contractor catches up from the wet weather. Stumps will be ground, cleaned up and seeded. All annual flowers have been planted. As soon as spring growth on perennial bushes has stopped, they will be trimmed and new mulch added.

An underground electric wire powering up the restroom on #16 and irrigation controllers on back nine may have to be replaced. That is being worked on as I write this.

You may have noticed sand spots in fairways. We are currently fixing drainage holes. We have completed 10, 11, 14, 16, and 18. This is a top priority this year.

With this dry weather, we will be adding divot mix back on the carts. If you just scuff the top of the grass, please do not bury it with sand. It will recover quickly. If you take a deep divot fill with sand, but do not over fill. Over filling will cause problems with reel mowers and may kill some surrounding grass that is left. Just fill half inch below top of grass.

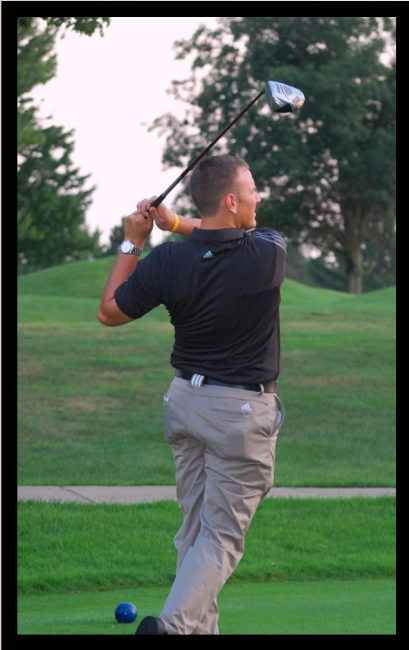

Our team will continue to provide you with the best golfing experience in the area.
