

Green Golf Partners Appoints Adam Piratzky General Manager For New Berlin Hills Golf Course in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE and INDIANAPOLIS, March 11, 2016 -- Green Golf Partners (GGP), one of the nation's leading golf course management and development companies, has appointed Adam Piratzky as general manager at its New Berlin Hills Golf Course in Milwaukee. Established in 1907, New Berlin Hills is recognized as one of the premier golf courses in the Greater Milwaukee metropolitan area.

Piratzky brings extensive experience to his new position, including the founding of the Chicago Park District Junior Golf League in 2014. He has worked for courses in Chicago as well as St. Augustine, Florida in positions ranging from pro shop operations apprentice to assistant golf professional to assistant general manager to general manager to his most recent position as director of programming at Billy Casper Golf for the Chicago Park District.

"We are delighted to have someone with such excellent credentials as Adam oversee operations at the prestigious New Berlin Hills Golf Course in suburban Milwaukee," said Matt McIntee, CEO of Green Golf Partners. "Adam's strong work ethic and enthusiasm for the game and business of golf will bring renewed vitality to New Berlin Hills and benefit all of our golfers, from beginners and casual golfers to league participants and various tournaments hosted by the club."

Founded originally as the Woodmont Country Club, the club and course underwent several ownership changes through the decades. As the W.A. Roberts Golf Course it hired Goldie Bateson as the first female head golf professional in Wisconsin in 1955, where she remained for 21 years. In 1978 the club and course were purchased by the city of New Berlin and renamed the New Berlin Hills Golf Course. The Root River runs through seven of the course's 18 holes, which play on a layout that ranges from 5,346 yards to 6,517 over four sets of tee boxes.

Piratzky served as an operations assistant for the 2012 Ryder Cup at Medinah, Illinois as well as a tournament operations associate for the International Junior Golf Tour and a volunteer at the 2006 and 2007 Tournament Players Championship. As director of programming for the Chicago Park District he added value to the Chicago Park District Golf portfolio through continual design, establishment and implementation of innovative and successful golf programs.

Piratzky, who resides in Wauwatosa, WI, earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sports Management from Flagler College in St. Augustine.

About Green Golf Partners

Green Golf Partners is one of the fastest growing golf course management companies in the United States. The senior management team, with over 100 years of experience combined, is considered to be some of the leading golf course management experts in the game of golf in the world. The entire Green Golf Partners team believes that celebrating the game and emphasizing fun are critical to the long-term success at the projects which they develop.

The Green Golf Partners portfolio features courses in five states across the country, including such notable properties as Kemper Lakes Golf Club in Kildeer, Ill. (recently awarded the 2018 KPMG Women's PGA Championship), Belleview Biltmore Golf Club in Belleair, Fla. and Jester Park Golf Club in Granger, Ia. For more information on Green Golf Partners, go to www.greengolfpartners.com. For additional information about New Berlin Hills Golf Course, call 262-780-5200, visit www.newberlinhills.com or "Like" it on Facebook.

Media Contacts:

Chris Comes

Ripson Communications for Green Golf Partners

Chris.comes@ripsoncommunications.com

312-282-0539 (m)

Twitter: @ChrisComes

###