

Thanks to all who supported my 3rd Annual Golf Classic last year. We will be supporting the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation and Sickle Cell Foundation to help fund ongoing research towards treatments and finding cures for both diseases.

The UAB Comprehensive Diabetes Center, working through a grant from the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF), hopes the strain on families of young diabetics could be nearing an end. Researchers are set to begin a human clinical trial using Verapamil as a treatment for type 1 diabetes. "This is the tip of the iceberg," said Aubrey Miller, Executive Director of the Alabama chapter of JDRF. "I think that [people need to] keep the hope, because hope is the driving force to better management." Verapamil has already proven to cure diabetes in lab mice according to Dr. Anath Shalev with the UAB CDC.

Sickle cell anemia has no widely available cure. However, treatments to improve the anemia and lower complications can help with the symptoms and complications of the disease in both children and adults. Blood and marrow stem cell transplants may offer a cure for a small number of people. Over the past 100 years, doctors have learned a great deal about sickle cell anemia. Because of improved treatments and care, people who have sickle cell anemia are now living into their forties or fifties, or longer.

The tournament will be held at Highland Park Golf Course, 3300 Highland Avenue South, Birmingham, AL 35205, (205) 322-1902, the City's premier golf course. It offers well-manicured tees and fairways and award-winning bent grass greens that run fast and true. The layout is fun and encouraging for novice golfers, yet enticing enough for skilled golfers. This par-70 golf course may play shorter than average with over 5,800 yards from back tees, but packs quite the punch!
