Roofing Contractors Association of California The Value of Membership

The Roofing Contractors Association of California (RCAC) is a nonprofit 501(c)(6) professional organization dedicated to the protection and advancement of the California roofing industry in legislative, regulatory, and business affairs. Founded in 1949, RCAC serves as a link between roofing contractors, roofing industry affiliate organizations, state agencies, and the State Legislature.

Workers' Compensation Program: RCAC has partnered with State Compensation Insurance Fund (State Fund) to provide a group workers' compensation insurance program exclusively for RCAC members. Members who qualify for inclusion in RCAC Group Program #639 receive a discount of 6% off their base insurance premium.

Gasoline Discount Program: RCAC has partnered with Flyers Energy to provide RCAC members with a discount of $0.05 per gallon on all fuel purchased at over 550 Flyers retail and cardlock locations in California. The discount is reflected on the member's monthly Flyers Energy bill, and there is nothing more to do than remain a member of RCAC. The average Flyers customer will pay for their RCAC annual membership dues with just five months' worth of savings from Flyers!

Education, Training, & Safety Services: RCAC members receive free training for employees at the annual "Safety Days" seminars held in both Northern and Southern California, covering a variety of important topics, such as ladder safety, fall protection, heat illness prevention, and personal protective equipment. RCAC also offers a full-service safety program, including: free safety handouts to RCAC members; a video lending library with many safety DVDs to educate employees on safe practices; a safety contact person to field safety-related questions and research information; articles in the newsletter and on the web site to keep members up-to-date on industry safety issues and changes in Cal-OSHA regulations; and handy safety tips on each page of the RCAC web site.

Information: Members receive a quarterly electronic newsletter, California Roofing, and electronic updates on key industry issues, including regulatory changes, safety, legislation and business-related topics and events. Members can also go online at www.rcacal.com for important news updates, state and regulatory bulletins, legislation, and education announcements.

New Job Leads: RCAC promotes to consumers the importance of selecting quality materials and professional roofing contractors. Members receive a complimentary listing on RCAC's web site, www.rcacal.com, in the "Find a Contractor" section, where consumers can search for roofing contractors in their geographic areas.

Discounted Legal Services: RCAC members receive discounted legal services from a professional law firm well-versed in the issues of the roofing industry. The Law Offices of Abdulaziz, Grossbart & Rudman will give members a discounted rate of $75 for a 20-minute initial consultation; limited free assistance for routine, simple questions; and a $25 per hour discount for ongoing fees.

Legislative Advocacy: As your voice in Sacramento, RCAC fights for the best interests of roofing contractors statewide. During the legislative session, RCAC will be monitoring the progress of relevant bills. At the top of the list are bills addressing immigration reform; placing a cap on retention proceeds; workers compensation; bills aimed at providing tax incentives to jump-start the state's economy; and proposals to increase scrutiny on state agencies, regulations, and programs.

Member Participation and Networking: RCAC members have the opportunity to get involved and represent the industry by participating on policy-making committees and the political action committee, California RoofPAC. Participation in the annual golf tournament enables members to network with roofing professionals from all over California.

Marketing Opportunities: RCAC Associate members have opportunities to market their product or service, including: discounted rates on advertising in RCAC's quarterly publication California Roofing; posting of your company logo, web site link and contact information on RCAC's web site; company listing in the annual membership directory; and your company logo prominently displayed in each quarterly newsletter.
