

New golf course is ready

The new golf course is 60 feet above the Rio Grande. Courtesy Photo

The new golf course is near the Rio Grande and is considered one of the most beautiful in all the country.

Friday, October 12, 2012

By: Mauricio Belloc, The Laredo Sun

LAREDO, TX. – The official opening of the new golf course will take place on Friday, Oct. 19, which is described as the most beautiful course in the United States.

Being 60 feet above the Rio Grande, the new golf course displays a beautiful scenery while playing at the Par-3 5th hole among a field of cactus, mesquite and a water tributary of that stream also called Rio Grande.

Robert Trent Jones II, is the designer of this golf course who is also responsible for more than 273 fields in 44 countries on 6 continents. This field is due in large part to the family of Max A Mandel, who gave life to the respectable sum of 390 acres of field, a million dollars in cash and irrigation rights split the golf course.

Facilities will include a clubhouse and a ballroom that can be rented.

Prices for playing at this field will be cheaper than other cities such as Corpus Christi, Austin, San Antonio and Houston.

Simply being on the greens of this widespread course is wonderful to behold, given its landscapes, and enlarged by the immediate presence of the Rio Grande.

Edited by: C.R.