TURF TALK

An early winter storm blanketed our area with several inches of snowfall. We received 4 inches here at Lee's Hill, which forced course closure for 5 days. We were opened on Friday, December 14th. The following weekend we received an additional 2.25 inches of rain that officially pushed our yearly precipitation totals to record levels. Unfortunately it appears that this pattern will continue, at least in the short term.

On a positive note most of the leaves have been removed from the course. Wet and windy weather tends to speed leaf drop as was evident this season. We are making steady progress with our winter project list. All cooler stands have been completed and we are now focusing on trash bin renovation. On the course the clearing effort continues around pond banks and native areas. As of this writing the pond on hole #5 has been completed.

We will continue with project updates as the winter progresses. Wishing you and yours a very happy and prosperous new year! Hope to see you on the course soon.
