TURF TALK

Over a foot and a half of snow shut us down in January, and as February begins the golf course is closed while we anxiously wait for the snow to melt. The first few days following the storm were fun. The scenery was beautiful, and my family enjoyed having time off from work and school. We played board games, watched movies, ate lots of food, and consumed some adult beverages. A week later the pristine snow is now a dirty, slushy mess, the family is bored, overweight and needing some space from one another.

Prior to the snowfall the maintenance staff was working on tree and brush removal. We have almost finished the back nine, cleaning up debris in the woods, removing limbs that obstruct our mowers, and cutting back brush.

Once we can get back on the course we will need to see how the course has been affected by the snowstorm and perform some clean-up before continuing on the front nine. A fungicide was applied to greens to prevent snow mold and other diseases. We hope to get them topdressed with sand once we are dry enough to do so. I also will begin spraying out poa and broadleaf weeds in the rough when conditions allow. A pre-emergent herbicide was applied on fairways and tees last fall, preventing germination of weeds in these areas.

Josh Sumler, my Assistant for the past seven years, has left the position to pursue a new job opportunity. I want to thank Josh for his hard work and friendship. Josh has been a key person on our staff that contributed greatly in the strides which we have made improving Lee's Hill Golf Course. I wish Josh the best and will miss having him to do all the tasks that I don't want to do. Josh will continue to work part-time here, helping out on weekends and when he is available. Thanks again Josh, and good luck.

Brian Roudabush, GCS

Aerification March 22 & 23
