TURF TALK

Warm dry weather has dominated the area the past several weeks. The fairways were just emerging from dormancy when this dry spell set in. During this time, it is extremely important to adhere to the 90 degree cart rule. This practice, if adhered to, will help to mitigate cart traffic impacts on drought dormant fairways. Please utilize the cart path until you come to where your ball is located and proceed in a straight line to its location. After hitting your shot please proceed straight back to the path and continue the process. The mistake people make is they drive directly to their ball, riding the fairway the entire time. This adds substantial traffic to drought stressed fairways and will delay turf recovery once we do receive rainfall. Thanks for your cooperation in this matter.

It is time once again for the invasion of the Cicadas. This is also the year that brood X, red eyed Cicadas emerge for the first time in 17 years. Conditions have been favorable for a good crop of these insects. Have no fear, they are generally harmless and make a distinctive sound when mating.

As summer sets in, we look forward to seeing you on the course!
John Burns, Superintendent

No Fishing!

While we understand the ponds are very attractive to those that like to fish, it is very dangerous to fish on a golf course.

No Fishing is allowed and if you see anyone fishing, please report it to the Pro Shop. The Golf Course, Lee's Hill, accepts no liability to those that get injured while fishing on the golf course.
