

From the Founder

There are few moments in our lifetime that have the ability to impact our perspective, make us think more profoundly, and choose to live with more intention. They have the rare capacity to allow us to connect more deeply with who we are, and to each other. This was my experience crafting our first leather journal, and these are the products we still seek to make today:

Those that inspire all to live intentionally and leave their mark.

Our Commitment to American Craftsmanship

We're creators, craftsmen and artisans. We care about the materials in our creative arsenal and the experiences they support, which is why we utilize only high-quality top-grain leather from American cowhides. Cut in our shop and untreated, our leather is allowed to develop unique patinas with time and use.

Simple design and natural leather, left just raw enough, is a trademark characteristic of Rustico products. Durable enough for any adventure, yet primed to develop characteristics of the places and experiences they hold, Rustico products offer the uncommon pairing of reliability and personalization.
