While we know there are many clubs in the Washington, DC Metro Area you could choose to join, allow us a few minutes of your time and we'll share with you just some of the many reasons, why we feel National is the perfect choice for you and your family.

For 45 years, National Golf Club has prided itself on providing members with an exceptional private club experience. Conveniently located in the Fort Washington suburb of Washington, DC, National provides an immaculately maintained, championship golf course as its centerpiece. The quality of the course is backed by a full-service club, dedicated to providing members and their guests with the finest recreational, dining, and banquet facilities in the area.

Tucked away in the shadows of the National Harbor, it is a place where business quickly turns to pleasure and the entire family can enjoy activities together. In short, National offers the perfect sporting, social, and relaxing get-away, without ever leaving town.

As a member since 2005, I could think of no better club to belong to than National. Many improvements to the golf course and clubhouse have been made, and the golf staff in particular reflects these improvements. As a retired NFL referee, I know the importance of teamwork, and the golf operation from the grounds crew to the golf shop exemplifies that. I like hanging out in the clubhouse after play having a beer and catching ESPN on the plasma TV's but, it is the great golf course and staff that keep bringing me back. Just like with football, I enjoy the camaraderie here.

- Ben Montgomery

My job requires to me to be away often and as such I occasionally get to play golf as part of my job so I get to see other layouts and golf operations. It is that play away that makes me appreciate what I have at National. The dues are more than fair relative to other clubs in DC and for what we get as members – a great golf course, free range balls, golf shop merchandise at cost plus 10%, friendliness of the golf shop team, play in 4 hours and pretty much any tee time we want. What more do you want from a private golf club!

- Phil Hart

Having grown up by working as a cart boy at a golf course, I recognize a great value in golf when I see one. The lockerrooms are fully stocked allowing me to work out in the clean and well kept fitness center before going to work and then take a shower and make it to work in DC before 8am....this makes for a great lifestyle. Please keep up the good work with the vast improvements to golf course too!

- Matt Larson

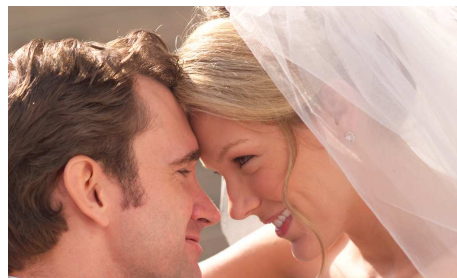

The course at National is always an enjoyable golfing experience. It truly offers the members and guests different shots each time they play. The membership is a part of my extended family; everyone enjoys playing golf on our great course. The club provides an enjoyable atmosphere!

- Joe McCollum

Thank you so much for all of your support, professionalism and assistance. The ballroom was gorgeous and EXACTLY what I have been envisioning since I first decided to have our wedding reception there. The goal was for me to keep the wedding simple/elegant, and I can certainly say with the white linen table clothes, fan folded napkins and the way you all listened and set the room up in the manner that suits all of our 215 guests, I was so overwhelmed. In the future, I would certainly come back and use the National Golf Club.

Thank your staff and the Chef. I really appreciate their enthusiasm to make our day even more special by assuring us that everything was going to be classy and elegant!

- Phyllis Pryor and Greg Anthony

20 Reasons Why You Should Become A National Member

1. Convenient Location

National Golf Club is a hidden treasure in beautiful historic Fort Washington, Maryland only minutes from the New National Harbor and 20 minutes from Alexandria and downtown DC.

2. Great Golf

At National you'll enjoy a classic layout that's always fun to play! Our shot maker's course challenges you in every way possible while still providing the fun that's so lacking on many of the modern, monster courses. Our 18-Hole, par 72 championship golf course was designed by Ted Robinson. Accomplished golfers and beginners will find the layout of our bent grass course challenging and exciting.

The course has significant elevation changes throughout and winds through large hardwood, oak and pine trees. The course features a variety of doglegs and each hole is unique. The Tour Quality condition and layout keeps your attention throughout ... a classic layout that demands tremendous strategy throughout. Featuring four sets of tees, National is truly playable and enjoyable for players of every skill level from tour professionals to juniors.

3. Superb Conditioning

Our course is one of the finest groomed layouts with tournament conditions in the greater Washington DC Metro area. The greens, fairways, and tees are immaculately conditioned. National is renowned for its meticulously landscaped trees and greens, where beautiful plants and flowers adorn each hole. Tall oak, pine and hardwood trees line the twisting fairways and provide a picturesque backdrop for every round of golf. Robinson designed the course to thrill the golfer, while preserving the habitat and natural beauty of the area. His design purposely protected the delicate ecological balance of the wetlands that come into play on often throughout.

4. World-Class Practice Facility
