Meeting called to order at 9:00 AM by Commission Chairman Todd Durbin.

Minutes: A motion was made by June York, seconded by Jim Kile and passed by all the members present to accept the minutes of 4/16/24 as written.

Financial Reports: Hadley Haskell reported for Centennial that revenue last month was in line with the previous year, despite aerification, parking lot and clubhouse construction. Scott Nicholes reported for Ridgecrest that revenue was up substantially from the same period last year. They have been extremely busy and at times the parking lot has been completely full, including the dirt area. Scott was asked how foot golf was going on the Wee Nine. He indicated that they still get foot golf players, it does not interfere with golf on the Wee Nine and it does provide additional revenue for the course. Jennifer Ayala Vanderpool reported on large capital expenses at Ridgecrest for a new mower and one other piece of equipment, and at Centennial for parking lot reconstruction and clubhouse remodel. Other expenses were normal for this time of year. A motion was made by Steve Wilson, seconded by Neal Murphy, and passed by all the members present to accept the Financial Reports.

Operations/Course Conditions: Brandon Crim reported for Centennial that they are chasing some irrigation leaks. The course is recovering well from aerification. The new tees on #3 and #13 have been roped off and seeded. Depending on how the turf comes in, they may be usable in a few months. They are doing normal mowing and maintenance. Brandon was asked if he has a full crew this year and he reported that he does have all of his positions filled. Neal Murphy reported that the course looks great, as does the parking lot and trailer parking area. The course has been extremely busy. He also reported on something he saw at another course while out of town on business. They had put in a small par three (3-hole) course in an unused area and was reserved primarily for kids. That might be something for us to think about for the future. Scott Nicholes read Josh Davidson's maintenance report for Ridgecrest. They are keeping a regular mowing schedule and greens appear to be recovering well from aerification. Trenches have been dug and irrigation pipe laid in the extended area of the driving range. They will be running wire and installing sprinkler heads soon. Fairways have been sprayed for weeds and other areas of the course spot sprayed. They are doing normal troubleshooting and repairing irrigation issues. Todd Durbin added that he thought the course looked great for the Mayor's Tournament. Scott Nicholes reported that they get many compliments in the pro shop on the condition of the course. Great job by Josh and his crew. Steve Wilson read Bob Nash's report. The course looks great. He's gotten comments from players on how well the greens have recovered from aerification. Dandelions in the fairways are dying so the weed spraying appears to be working. The water station on #6 has been installed and the one for #13 will be installed soon. He has gotten some complaints about windshields on carts being water-spotted and hard to see through in the sun. Scott Nicholes indicated that he has spoken to the wash crew and they will try to address that. It was also mentioned that players could be reminded that the cart windshields can be folded down. Bob mentioned the number of no-shows he's seeing after they've made tee-times, which impacts revenue. Scott Nicholes indicated that he, Hadley Haskell and Tony Blasius will discuss that and what might be done through their point-of-sale provider.
