

DAY 2 - Esteve & Campos tied in first place at 2014 PRGA Championship

Rio Grande, PR - With individual rounds of scores under par, amateur golfer Jerónimo Esteve (70,69) and PGA Tour Latinoamerica player Rafael Campos (68,71), are tied for first place at -5 at the Leaderboard of the 2014 PRGA Championship, presented by Johnnie Walker, a counting event for the World Amateur Golf Ranking (WAGR). After 36 holes played at the Championship Course at Trump International Golf Club, a total of 32 players made the cut to play the 3rd round of the annual championships hosted by the Puerto Rico Golf Association during its 60th anniversary.

Gabriela Santini, who is the defending champion of the Ladies Division was the low score at her category by also scoring a one-under par round of 71 strokes to lead the five-players field.

The Mid Amateur Division is led by Alfred Colon at +8 while Mario Carbia and Felipe Colon, who is playing at his home course are tied on 1st place at +2 at the Seniors.

The First Flight is scheduled to be added to the field of the Championships this morning.