MOSAIC SELECTED TO MANAGE GOVERNORS TOWNE CLUB

Mosaic Assumes Reins of Spectacular Private Club in Elite Community

Alpharetta, Ga. (March 24, 2015) – Mosaic Clubs & Resorts announced today that the company has been selected to manage Governors Towne Club, the high-end private club associated with the nationally known and award-winning community by the same name in Acworth, Georgia, just 35 minutes north of downtown Atlanta.

Governors Towne Club is home to a Curtis Strange designed golf course, homes priced from $750,000 to $4 million, a spa and fitness center that rivals those found at any major resort, a tennis and aquatic club, and an on-site town retail center. Built in 2002 as new urban community, Governors Towne Club is situated on 735 verdant acres with views of the north Georgia mountains.

“Mosaic’s reputation for excellence in leadership in private and resort club management and their experience with high-end golf communities made them the perfect choice to oversee operations at Governors Towne Club, said Kenneth G. Horton, president of Kenneth G. Horton & Co., the developer of Governors Town Club.

With more than 300 members, Governors Towne Club is positioned at the top of the market with initiation fees ranging from $17,500 to $32,500. Members enjoy a multitude of aquatic, tennis, spa, fitness, culinary and social programs lead by a professional staff.

One of the most respected private resort club developers in the southeast, Mr. Horton has overseen the development of several other high-end golf communities and retail centers in the Atlanta area prior to Governors Towne Club. His commitment to green building practices and the preservation of the natural beauty in the communities he develops has resulted in a portfolio of award-winning communities across the Southeast and is a cornerstone of Governors Towne Club.

“We have known Mr. Horton for years and the very high quality of his developments,” says Mosaic founding partner and chairman, Whitney Crouse. “To now be at the helm of one of Georgia’s most beautiful clubs and estate communities is a joy for us.”
