

Lawrence R. Eichert

BS, MA Concordia University Chicago, NEST Cert, from MIT, V.C Cert, UNESCO, Oxford, UK, and hold K-9, 6-12, 12-14 Teacher Certificates

Lawrence has been involved with field work in biological and environmental science fields since 1961. Beginning with the original prairie restoration project in the Cook County, IL Forest Preserve District leading to piloting the Outdoor Education Program in Northern Illinois. Lawrence has received grants from the National Science Foundation and worked with various universities, international organizations and conservation departments from several countries, These opportunities spanned 5 continents and 17 countries. Other work includes developing environmental science courses, writing curriculum for ASCD project 2061, writing for the A.P. Biology course - Virtual School Project of Florida, starting a rehabilitation project for marine animals in Hong Kong, and working with students on intern project programs assigned by the SW District Conservation Dept. of Australia. Lawrence has served on various Accreditation Boards, WASC & N. Central, for colleges both US and International. He is a science educational consultant, and has conducted environmental workshops at schools in IN. MI. MN. TX. IL. and for USF with Stoneybrook.